UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON

The Henry M. Jackson
School of International Studies

April 20-22, 2023

The University of Washington, Seattle

WELCOME

The Ellison Center for Russian, East European and Central Asian Studies (REECAS) is honored to host the 29th annual REECAS Northwest conference at the University of Washington. As the northwest affiliate conference of the Association for Slavic, East European and Eurasian Studies (ASEEES), REECAS Northwest has become a fixture in the academic landscape of the Pacific Northwest during the past quarter century. We are pleased to welcome scholars and students from overseas, the East Coast, and up and down the West Coast.

The Ellison Center carries on the legacy of Dr. Herbert J. Ellison, who was one of the preeminent scholars of Soviet studies in the U.S. for half a century and worked for most of his career at the UW's Jackson School of International Studies. He devoted his life to not only scholarly pursuits, but also to building institutions to develop the next generation of experts.

This year we welcome Alexei Yurchak, Professor of Anthropology at the University of California, Berkley as our keynote speaker. Our plenary speaker is Professor Joshua Zimmerman from Yeshiva University. This year's conference will also showcase recent books by two Pacific Northwest scholars. Douglas Smith, an award-winning author, will discuss his new translation of Konstantin Paustovsky's epic memoir, The Story of a Life. The conference's New Book Roundtable will discuss How the Soviet Jew Was Made by Sasha Senderovich (University of Washington).

This year's conference has a record number of participants, and it would not have been possible without the hard work and dedication of the Ellison Center's staff: Managing Director Philip Lyon, Outreach Coordinator Emma Delapre, and UW student volunteers. We are very grateful to Benjamin Tromly, Professor at the University of Puget Sound, for his work on the REECAS Northwest Committee, and to the many faculty and graduate students at the University of Washington for serving as panel chairs and discussants.

Seattle is a global and vibrant city, and its values represent the best of America. It is the ideal place for the open exchange of ideas and production of new knowledge. We welcome you to Seattle and we wish you a successful conference!

ABOUT THE ELLISON CENTER FOR RUSSIAN, EAST EUROPEAN & CENTRAL ASIAN STUDIES

The Ellison Center is a leading U.S. center for the study of Russia, Eastern Europe and Central Asia. Housed in the University of Washington's Jackson School of International Studies, the center works to advance scholarship and educate students about Russia, Eastern Europe, and Central Asia through historical understanding, innovative teaching, and interdisciplinary research. This mission flows out of Professor Herbert Ellison's commitment to building connections with the diverse peoples of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union.

Long known only as the REECAS Center, the Herbert J. Ellison Center for Russian, East European and Central Asian Studies was christened as such in 2004 to honor Dr. Ellison's legacy with the generous financial support of the Ellison family and other program supporters.

As its long name indicates, the Russian, East European and Central Asian Studies region is expansive and diverse, counting 29 countries. REECAS countries include the following: Albania, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, Czech Republic, Estonia, Georgia, Hungary, Kazakhstan, Kosovo, Kyrgyzstan, Latvia, Lithuania, Macedonia, Moldova, Montenegro, Poland, Romania, Russia, Serbia, Slovakia, Slovenia, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Ukraine, and Uzbekistan.

The Ellison Center offers a Master's Degree in Russian, East European and Central Asian Studies as well as an undergraduate minor. We also offer an Accelerated REECAS MA to US Military Foreign Area Officers (FAOs). We sponsor lectures, conferences and exchanges covering the entirety of Eastern Europe and Eurasia; and we sustain a dynamic program of outreach to local schools, colleges and community organizations interested in our region. With over 60 participating UW faculty, the Ellison Center represents a unique intellectual resource for faculty, students, and professionals living in the Pacific Northwest and beyond.

Professor Ellison served as a mentor to thousands of undergraduate and graduate students over 40 years. Instilling in them a love for the people and regions of the former Soviet Union and communist Europe, he devoted his career to the belief that educational exchange programs open doors and minds for all citizens of the world, and especially for those who long suffered behind the Iron Curtain.

Now, with public interest in Russia, Eastern Europe and Central Asia higher than any time since the Soviet Union's demise, the Ellison Center supports innovative research, student programs and community outreach to promote learning about this region of the world and carry on Herbert Ellison's legacy.
