CULTURAL INTERACTIONS (5 Cr)
C. D. ROBINSON

CULTURAL INTERACTIONS IN AN INTERDEPENDENT WORLD
This course introduces a critical approach to understanding the relationship between culture and politics by examining the problem of political violence and armed conflict and its relationship to society and culture in the post-WWII world. We adopt an ethnographic perspective to examine these questions through the examination of processes of political violence and armed conflict in the daily lives of ordinary people, drawing on case studies from the US, South Asia, Africa, and the Middle East.

CENTRAL ASIAN COUNTRY PROFILES: 20 YEARS OF INDEPENDENCE be followed by a similar course in Spring 2011 focusing on Kyrgyzstan and Turkmenistan, will concentrate on significant developments in both republics since independence in 1991. Starting with an overview of the conditions both republics inherited from the Russian/Soviet colonial rule, the discussion will proceed to specific developments which shaped the national identity of Uzbeks and Kazakhs in a post-colonial setting. The course will look at the initial goals and aspirations as expressed in the national anthems, flags and constitutions and will discuss the different roads the two republics chose in reviving their traditions and values. In both republics, attention to their state languages, their history, literature, education, environment and other aspects of their culture, including Islam, constitute important areas of their efforts to regain their self-esteem. Throughout the course, Kazakh and Uzbek sources will be consulted in English translation, mostly provided by the instructor. Course requirements: One final paper. Its topic and a short abstract are due in the 6th week of classes.
