

Humanitarian Options in Syria: Will “Safe Areas” Work?

Monday, November 21, 2016
12:30-1:20 p.m., Thomson Hall, Room 317
UW-Seattle Campus
Free and open to the public

PRESENTERS

Frederick Lorenz is a Senior Lecturer, Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies and retired US Marine officer with experience in Somalia, Bosnia, and Kosovo.

Lieutenant Colonel Owen Ray is an Army War College Fellow at the University of Washington with ground combat experience in Afghanistan and Iraq.

The Civil War in Syria grinds on every day, with unprecedented complexity, vast human suffering and no solution in sight. Two Jackson School faculty will review the situation, using historic examples of safe areas and “no-fly zones” from other conflicts including Bosnia and Iraq.

Sponsored by the Middle East Center, Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies. The Middle East Center’s sponsorship of this event does not imply that the Center endorses the content of the event. Contact: mecuw@uw.edu.

MIDDLE EAST CENTER

UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON

The Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies

