Breakfast in Prince George---

Meet Gary and his colleague, Gail Fondahl. Gail is a geographer and the current president of the International Arctic Social Sciences Association. She is also the Co-Convener (along with Gary) of next year's International Congress of Arctic Social Sciences. So she will be able to talk about IASSA and ICASS, as well as her own research in both the Arctic and in northern BC. Gail and Gary are old Russia hands, so they'd be happy to talk about the Russian north too, if there's time.

Afternoon: Gary will take us to Fort St. James National Historic Site and a self-guided tour.

Dinner: BBQ at Gary's

Stay in UNBC residences

July 26:

Breakfast: Prince George

Meet Gary and go toward Mount Robson and parts east. He will join us you as far as the Ancient Forest, which is about an hour east of Prince George. One of the foresters there will lead us on a hike.
