

Ozgun Ozkan
Ph.D. Student

The Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies, University of Washington, Seattle

Education

- M.A. Regional Security Studies (Europe/Eurasia), The US Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA, December 2012.
- B.S. Systems Engineering/Electricity, The Turkish Military Academy, Ankara, Turkey, August 2004.

Professional Experience

- Military Officer in the Turkish Armed Forces 2004-2014

Research Experience

- Master's Thesis, NATO-Russia Relations in the Twenty-First Century, Dr. Donald Abenheim and Dr. Mikhail Tsyppkin, The Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA Dec 2012

Teaching Experience

- Teaching Assistant, University of Washington, Seattle, WA
 - JSIS 200: States and Capitalism Sept -Dec 2015
 - JSIS 201: Making of the 21st Century Jan-Mar 2016
 - JSIS 202: Cultural Interactions in an Interdependent World Mar-Jun 2016

Conference Presentations

- "Conscription and Citizenship in the Late Ottoman Empire," Presented at American Association of Teachers of Turkic Lang. Conf. Workshop, Denver, CO. Nov 2015
- "Cultivating Patriotism: Conscription and Minorities in the Late Ottoman Empire," Presented at the Western Ottomanists' Workshop, UC Berkeley, CA. Mar 2016

Awards & Honors

- Graduation with Distinction, Bachelors of Science in Systems Engineering, Turkish Military Academy, Ankara, Turkey. 2004
- University of Washington Graduate School Fellowship 2014
- Maurice and Lois Schwartz Fellowship 2016

Languages

- Turkish Native
- English Proficient
- Greek Intermediate
- Ottoman Turkish Intermediate
- German Beginner