

The Eugene and Marilyn Webb Scholarship is intended as an award for excellence and is not need based. It may be used at the student's discretion to pay the expense of study. Undergraduates and graduate students majoring in comparative religion are eligible to apply. The committee may also, under certain circumstances, award a student majoring in an adjacent field of study (e.g. anthropology, history, literature, philosophy or sociology) but with a special interest in the comparative study of religion.

Application for the Eugene and Marilyn Webb Scholarship in Comparative Religion

Please email the application form and all recommendations to lpaxton@uw.edu, Subject Line: Webb Scholarship.
Deadline: January 17, 2017 (this deadline has been extended to January 23rd, 2017 due to computer problems.)

Email address_____

UW Student number_____

Name _____

Address_____

Telephone_____

Citizenship_____

Degree being pursued (check one):
BA in Comparative Religion_____

MA in International Studies Comparative Religion Track_____

Quarter and year admitted into this degree program_____

Anticipated date of graduate quarter and year _____

Colleges and universities attended (be sure your student file contains transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate work):

Two letters of recommendation (pdfs) can be sent to lpaxton@uw.edu

Names of two UW faculty from whom you have requested letters of recommendation:
