UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON

CANADIAN STUDIES CENTER
HENRY M. JACKSON SCHOOL OF INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

Canadian Studies Center News

APRIL 2018

Find out what we've been up to!

Welcome Kyla Sweet, Our New Education and Curriculum K – 12 Specialist!

Kyla Sweet is the new Education and Curriculum K–12 Specialist for the Pacific Northwest National Resource Center on Canada (joining the Canadian Studies centers at UW and Western Washington University).

Ukiuqta'qtumi Hivuniptingnun: One Arctic, One Future

"Ukiuqta'qtumi Hivuniptingnun: One Arctic, One Future," written by Nadine Fabbi, Canadian Studies Managing Director; Jason Young, former Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) Fellow in Inuktitut; and Eric Finke, independent scholar, was recently published in the book One Arctic: The Arctic Council and Circumpolar Governance (2017).

Climate Change in an International Perspective: Science, Art, and Activism

Winter quarter was host to a unique elective for the Arctic minor—ARCTIC 391: Climate Change – An International Perspective: Science, Art, and Activism—a class that explores climate change and its implications for the people, landscape, and countries of the Arctic, mainly Canada, Russia, and the Scandinavian countries.

Corbett British Columbia–Washington International Exchange Program Recipient Shares Experiences

Anneka Hunchuck, an undergraduate majoring in Kinesiology at the University of British Columbia, is one of this year's Corbett Exchange Program recipients. Anneka has just spent two quarters at UW, and earned a wealth of insight about the Pacific Northwest region.

National Film Board of Canada CAMPUS Now Available!

Don't have Netflix or Hulu? Try the National Film Board of Canada's CAMPUS online streaming service! CAMPUS provides access to approximately 1,700 NFB films that are available only to CAMPUS subscribers, both on and off campus. A further 3,500 NFB films are freely available online!

Photo Albums

Washington State Council for the Social Studies, Spring Conference 2018

Pacific Northwest Canadian Studies Consortium Board Meeting 2018

Blast from the Past

Funding Opportunities

The 2019-20 Core Fulbright U.S. Scholar Program is accepting applications from US-citizen academics and professionals through the deadline of August 1, 2018. Fulbright Scholars are selected for their academic merit and leadership potential to teach, research, and exchange ideas. Below are some highlights of the 13 awards available to Canada: Research Chairs in Arts, Humanities, and Culture, Fulbright Canada Distinguished Research Chairs at Carleton University, Research Chairs in Indigenous Studies, Research Chairs in Business and Economics. There are over 450 awards available in more than 125 countries; complete details are located in the Catalog of Awards. Eligibility criteria, application guidelines, review criteria, as well as other resources are available on the Fulbright website.

The Canadian Studies Center, with the Center for Canadian-American Studies at Western Washington University, is a Title VI federally funded National Resource Center, International and Foreign Language Education, Office of Postsecondary Education, U.S. Department of Education. The National Resource Center for the Study of Canada responds to the ongoing national need for expertise in understanding Canada – its history, politics, economic, and social systems and their relationship to the United States and beyond – and to build competence in French and Indigenous languages in Canada. The activities in this report were made possible, in part, by Title VI grant funding.

© 2018 Canadian Studies Center, Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies, University of Washington, Seattle

Box 353650. Seattle, WA 98195-3650

Thomson Hall 503 | 206-221-6374 | canada@uw.edu

This email was sent to {{lead.Email Address}}

Unsubscribe or change your email preferences