

CANADIAN STUDIES CENTER NEWS

AUGUST, 2019

CENTER NEWS

Five-year MOU signed with Killam, Canada

In early spring, the Canadian Studies Center signed another five-year MOU with the Killam Foundation, Canada to support undergraduate study-in-Canada. MORE

Members of Blood Tribe Administration visit UW

UW faculty and students met with colleagues from the Blood Tribe Administration, Alberta, to compare social services programs. MORE

FACULTY NEWS

Urban Design and Planning course to Québec

In early summer quarter a cohort of UW master's students in Urban Design and Planning traveled Ottawa and Québec to compare urban design practices. MORE

Research—Social Sciences and the Salish Sea

The first phase of the Social Sciences for the Salish Sea project was completed this year with a full report submitted to the Puget Sound Partnership in July. MORE

Indigenous sovereignty and cross-border oil and gas development

Professor Patrick Christie explored the agency of Indigenous nations in oil and gas development during an environmental writing workshop. MORE

STUDENT NEWS

New Corbett scholars welcome reception

The Center, alongside Gary and Consuelo Corbett, welcomed the 2019-2020 Corbett scholars and bid farewell to our 2018-2019 scholars with a celebratory gathering. MORE

ALUMNI NEWS

First FLAS Fellow in Tlingit now co-author on paper

A paper just published in Ecology and Society, by former FLAS Fellow Michael Tillotson, explores the social-ecological system of the Quinault Nation. MORE

STUDY CANADA K-12 NEWS

Transboundary learning at the 2019 Study Canada Summer Institute

Educators from across the United States gathered for the Study Canada Summer Institute 2019 to experience transboundary learning along the Tribal Canoe Journey. MORE

TRIBUTE

A deeply missed member of our community

This spring the Center's long-time designer, Alessandro "Sandro" Leveque, passed away. Sandro has made the Center look good for the last 20 years. MORE

PHOTO ALBUMS

May 1-4, 2019—
Inuktitut documentary

July 8-17, 2019—Site
visit to Québec

July 25-26, 2019—Esqaph (Gathering of People Together)

OPPORTUNITIES

Undergraduate students:

- Pickering Graduate Fellowship: Available to graduating seniors and recent graduates committed to joining the Foreign Service. Applications due September 17, 2019.

Faculty:

- Assistant professor of Comparative Indigenous Studies: Western Washington University. This will be an ongoing and formal joint appointment with WWU's Center for Canadian-American Studies and Salish Sea Institute as well as in the academic department of their area of specialization. Position begins September 16, 2020. Application review begins December 1, 2019.
- Tenure-track faculty position, Indigenous Studies: The Irving K. Barber School of Arts and Sciences at the University of British Columbia, Okanagan Campus, invites applications for a tenure-track faculty in Indigenous Studies. This is an open rank position to be held in the Community, Culture and Global Studies unit of the Irving K. Barber School of Arts and Sciences with an expected start date of July 1, 2020. Application due October 4, 2019.

Other:

- Canada-U.S. Fulbright program: Numerous research and distinguished chair opportunities available. Applications due September 16, 2019.
- Call for submissions: American Review of Canadian Studies quarterly journal.

ALL OPPORTUNITIES

CONTACT US | PRIVACY | TERMS

© 2019 Canadian Studies Center, Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies, University of Washington, Seattle

Box 353650, Seattle, WA 98195-3650

Thomson Hall 503 | 206-221-6374 | canada@uw.edu

This email was sent to fwagner@uw.edu

Unsubscribe or change your email preferences