

CONFLICT AND PEACEBUILDING in AFRICA

W

THE HENRY M. JACKSON SCHOOL OF INTERNATIONAL STUDIES
UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON

JSIS B 100

(listed under “Issues in International Studies”)

WINTER 2023

9:30 a.m. – 11:20 a.m.
MW | 5C | SSc ELIGIBLE

QUESTIONS? FMA20@UW.EDU

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course explores the theoretical and empirical approaches to war and peace in Africa. The main purpose is to introduce students to armed conflicts on the continent and the practical ways of resolving them.

INSTRUCTOR:

FRANCIS ABUGBILLA

Francis Abugbilla is a lecturer of international studies at the University of Washington. He has lived experiences and knowledge of the root causes of African conflicts and the mechanisms to resolve them. His research focuses on peacebuilding and conflict resolution in post-conflict societies. He holds a Ph.D. in International Studies from the University of Washington.