

The University of Washington proudly presents

THE MONGOL EMPIRE & ITS LEGACY

APRIL 6, 2018
1:30 - 5:00 PM
THOMSON 317

Reception to follow

Genghis Khan meets the Chinese ambassadors from Herat, Afghanistan, 1228 CE., Bibliotheque nationale de France

"Four Paradigms in the Study of the Mongol Empire"

Professor Hodong Kim, Department of Asian History, Seoul National University

"Pomp, Dress, and Circumstance: Robing at Khubilai's Court (1260-1294)"

Professor Eiren Shea, Department of Art and Art History, Grinnell College

"The Shape of the World: Universal History under the Mongols"

Professor Stefan Kamola, Department of History, Eastern Connecticut State University

W

Symposium organizers, Professor Matthew Mosca (History & Jackson School of International Studies) and Professor Joel Walker (History), thank the following units at the University of Washington for their support of this event: Art History Program; Center for Korea Studies; China Studies Program; Department of History; Department of Near Eastern Languages and Civilization; Ellison Center for Russian, Eastern European, and Central Asian Studies; Global Studies Center; Middle East Center; and Simpson Center for the Humanities